History,

Midwest Recovery was started in 2007 by Charles and David Williams with the simple philosophy that the public should not have to pay for their junk appliances. Now over 2 years later we have doubled in size twice and have a client base of over 50 companies and 40 cities and counties. Midwest Recovery has served over 750,000 people in community cleanups and processed over 4 million pounds of appliances and 500,000 of electronics this year alone. Midwest Recovery has set the bar very high for other companies to follow.

Midwest Recovery is a completely sealed facility. That means that no hazardous wastes can escape. We protect the environment with absolute regard for public safety and health. All of the hazardous wastes removed are disposed of in accordance with Iowa Department of Natural Resources and the United States Environmental Protection Agency. Our facility is designed after the Iowa DNR's pilot facility in Scott County. All hazardous materials such as Mercury, Freon, and PCBs are recovered and maintained on site until they are disposed of.

Midwest Recovery is the only company in the Midwest that provides free appliance cleanups and almost free electronics cleanups to the general public. Midwest Recovery offers these services to municipalities for free also. Midwest Recovery will come to your community and go door to door or be on location. Midwest Recovery also provides the transportation and the personnel for the event. You do nothing but provide a location for us to be.

Midwest Recovery is a fully insured, licensed, and permitted. Midwest Recovery has 2 million in general liability. We are permitted by the EPA and licensed by the IDNR.

Subject: Notification of PCB Activity

Thank you for filing the Notification of PCB Activity form dated February 28, 2007 for the facility location listed below:

Midwest Recovery
3300 Henry St. SW
Suite 4-5
Bondurant, IA 50035

The Fibers and Organics Branch (FOB) of EPA's Office of Pollution Prevention and Toxics is issuing the following TSCA identification number to the above listed facility: IAW000000716. This number may only be used for PCB-related activities and may not be used for any other regulated hazardous waste activities.

If you have also applied for a Regulation (Hazardous) Waste EPA ID number under RCRA, you may request a consolidation of your RCRA identification number and TSCA identification number upon receipt of your RCRA EPA ID number. To do so, FOB would require confirmation of the RCRA identification number that has been assigned to your facility. A copy of the RCRA ID Assignment Form (8700-12A(6-90)) for your facility would be an example of acceptable documentation.

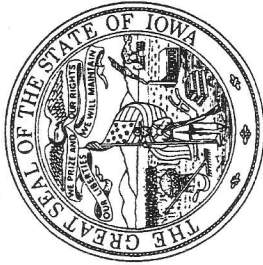

If you have any questions regarding the PCB Waste Handler's database, please contact Robert Courtage at (202) 566-1081.

Sincerely,
